

Pay It Forward Tour

pay it forward (v.)

1: to pass on goodness to those in need 2: instead of re-paying a favor—the act of continuing a favor to others 3: a random act of kindness

The Pay it Forward Tour is a college spring break road trip based on the idea of paying goodness forward instead of asking for favors back.

In charter buses of 40 people, hundreds travel from the Midwest to Washington DC and San Antonio, stopping at major cities along the way doing different service projects in each city.

This year, there will be 15 Tours with 600 participants, serving nearly 9,000 hours in 77 communities.

STLF's Mission

Starting with a few freshmen and a vision to change the world—one community at a time, one dream at a time, one person at a time. STLF is a new 501(c)(3) non-profit based out of Minneapolis, MN, with several college and high school STLF chapters in the Midwest.

Students Today Leaders Forever is committed to promoting leadership development through building relationships, community engagement, and service learning.

We have an alternative approach towards leadership structure and development. We believe that everyone has leadership abilities within. We hope to expose and hone these skills through experience, service, and initiative. Join us, and be part of the movement today!

The dynamics make the tour unique. It is a road trip, retreat, camp, service project—all on wheels!

A typical day consists of service in the morning, lunch with the community the Tour is serving, traveling to the next city, possible tourism, and an evening filled with activities and discussion.

STLF's Pay if Forward Tours provide the Education of a need/issue in our country, the Interaction with the community and its people, and the Reflection necessary to make the experience significant.

“STLF is a wonderful example of Paying It Forward in action. It's been great watching the students' efforts grow, and watching the ripple effect change lives and opinions. I hope everyone will help them out this year by getting involved in whatever way they can. My hats are off to these young leaders.”
